

If you are experiencing any form of domestic abuse please contact us.

We are here to listen and here to help.

About Us

Doncaster Women's Aid (DWA) are working to end domestic abuse against women and their children. We have been supporting women and children since 1976.

We can offer advocacy, emotional support, and assistance to improve safety measures, information on rights and other relevant services available.

Any woman over the age of 16 can access our service.

We define domestic abuse as physical, emotional, sexual or financial abuse by a partner, ex-partner or any other family member. We include forced marriage, honour based violence and forced prostitution.

We provide educational programmes, including The Freedom Programme.

"I feel confident that I won't let myself get drawn into an abusive relationship again."

"I can now see that what I've been through is not normal or acceptable."

We can provide domestic abuse awareness training for other agencies. We can be contacted for support in good practice and how to work with women experiencing domestic abuse.

If you do not feel safe in your home and need refuge accommodation we can provide information on refuge availability throughout the UK.

Referrals for refuge accommodation can be made by:

DWA or any other agency

Family members or friends

Women themselves
